The “Fundación Galileo Galilei - INAF, Fundación Canaria” (FGG) is a Spanish no-profit institution constituted by "INAF", the Italian Institute of Astrophysics.

The FGG’s aim is to promote the astrophysical research, as foreseen in the international agreement of May 26, 1979 ("Acuerdo de Cooperación en Materia de Astrofísica, B.O.E. Núm.161, 6 Jul 1979"), by managing and running the Telescopio Nazionale Galilei (TNG), a 3.58m optical/infrared telescope located in the Island of San Miguel de La Palma, together with its scientific, technical and administrative facilities.
Latest News:

2019-06-28 NameExoWorlds: give a name to one exoplanet
2019-06-04 Atmospheric characterisation of the ultra hot Jupiter MASCARA-2b/KELT-20b
2019-04-22 Giano detects methane for the first time in the atmosphere of a hot Jupiter
2019-04-22 AOT40 TNG REM Call for Proposal. Deadline 20.05.2019
2019-04-02 Favio Bortoletto, former TNG Director, passed away